Extra Questions

Extra Questions

(1) Cheese produced in this country is assigned one of four categories including "industrial" and "cooperative," and this country's president in 1962 is quoted as saying "How can you govern a country which has two hundred and forty-six (+) varieties of cheese?" This nation has the largest number of AOC-designated cheeses in the world, including Munster and Neufchatel. (*) For the points, name this European country whose cheese diversity prompted the saying that it produces a different cheese for every day of the year.

ANSWER: France (or French Republic; or République française)

(2) A recipe for the earliest predecessor to this foodstuff was found in the Le Ménagier de Paris in 1393 and involved cooking them in wine. This foodstuff is popularly sold with raspberry sauce in New York's Capital District, (+) as they're the best-selling food product at Parm. This foodstuff's modern version came from the United States in the 1970s, was a popular appetizer option because of the availability of mass-produced dairy, and is often served with (*) marinara sauce. For the points, name these long battered and fried strips of a certain cheese.

ANSWER: mozzarella sticks

(3) The Bastardo del Grappa was named for its addition of milk from this animal. The Cypress Grove farm makes the Humboldt Fog cheese from these animals. (+) The Murciana breed of this animal produces a cheese which was revived in the 1980s in Catalonia, called Garrotxa. This animal is also used to make Italian caprino cheese, and cheese from this animal is referred to as (*) fromage de chèvre in French. For the point, name this horned, bovid animal used to make cheese.

ANSWER: goats (or capra)

(4) Rosanna Pansino reported finding mold on one of this brand's product called "The Pizza," and one founder of this brand drew mockery online after he stated "I like my cheese drippy bruh." (+) This brand's products also feature a Feastables chocolate bar and a Prime drink, and it was marketed as a healthier alternative to another product made by Kraft Heinz. (*) Founded by KSI, Logan Paul, and MrBeast, this is, for the point, what brand of snack kits known for its queso cheese?

ANSWER: Lunchly

(5) This country's Ziger cheese is a ricotta-like by-product of another of its national cheeses from the Emme Valley. This country, the namesake of a cheese group first mentioned by Pliny the Elder as Caseus (+) Helveticus, is commonly associated with features called "eyes" that were once thought unsightly but are now valued as a mark of quality. (*) For the point, identify this country that used Gruyère in a 17th-century recipe for fondue, a type of dish first invented in Zurich.

ANSWER: Switzerland (accept Swiss Confederation, Schweizerische Eidgenossenschaft, Confederation Suisse, Confederazione Svizzera, Confederaziun Svizra, or Confoederatio Helvetica)